

FIRST HUMAN FERRO • HOMO SHARGEY • CD

Alexander Shargey (also known as Yuriy Kondratyuk) is a representative of passionate enthusiastic inventors who put their lives at stake to accomplish the mission for the future good of the whole mankind. Shargey belongs to a cohort of scientists who were the first to foresee the space conquering. They were great yet mocked-at dreamers and had to fight against all odds twice as hard. Shargey is a “recognized” space theoretic of unique unconventional genius. The name of a self-made engineer since decades has become well up to par with famous scientists like Tsiolkovski, Tsander, Korolyov.

Ukrainian First Human Ferro project led by Oleg Kolyada pays a long overdue tribute to its compatriot composing a well-crafted vintage dark ambient album with both poignant and mesmerizing layers of sidereal voyage.

“Homo Shargey” was pre-mastered by Italian ambient magician Vestigial. The packaging consists of a luxurious A5-sized digipak with silver finish and gloss varnish, conceptually designed by Marcin Łojek at Ibsen Design. Only 500 copies made.

This particular release is a cooperative effort of New Nihilism, fellow Requiem Productions and Triangle Records.
